These patterns have never before been offered at public sale. Mr. L. G. Parnelee has a set for which he paid $200, they were cheap at that price I had good evidence that but a few of these pieces were struck, but in order not to make a wrong statement wrote to Col. A. Loudon Snowden, Superintendent of the Mint at Philadelphia. I will give his letter, then parties will be satisfied that they are excessively rare pieces.

Passed

NOVEMBER 20, 1884.

The rubbings you send me are of pattern Eagles and Half Eagles struck in 1878. The dies were made by Mr. Barber and his assistant, Mr Morgan, No. 2 by Mr. Morgan. The number struck did not exceed 8 or 10, as they were not approved by the Department.

Very respectfully,
A. LOUDEN SNOWDEN.

TO DR. GEORGE W. MASSAMORE.

The four pieces will be offered as a set, in order to allow parties to buy them together. It is hoped they will not be separated. The right to withdraw is reserved if started at less than $165.00.

These medals are excessively rare, but three originals were struck (1 B, 1 C, 1 W M); the one in copper is in the cabinet of Wm. S. Appleton, Esq., the one in brass was in the Mickley collection, and sold for $42.50 to Colonel Bushnell; at the Bushnell sale it brought $43; I resurrected the original dies at the "Old Curiosity Shop," in Baltimore, in 1882, and in the presence of members of the Baltimore Numismatic Society, had struck 1 gold and 21 each in silver, brass and copper; the dies were destroyed on the spot, and presented to the society; sworn certificates to that effect accompanied each medal or set. They were mostly subscribed for in advance, at $5 for silver and $2.50 each for brass and copper, the few left were quickly disposed of; this set was bought at the time, but with the ups and downs of life must go with the balance of the collection, as the political hatchet is awaiting the owner's scalp.
